

A STROKE OF JAZZ 2018
Songs from Around The World
Monday 16 July 2018, 7-9pm

It was a full house at our recent fundraiser concert “A Stroke Of Jazz 2018” held at the Esplanade Recital Studio where our Guest of Honour President Halimah Yacob and SNSA members and guests gathered to enjoy an evening of contemporary jazz music from around the world. The jazz quartet of musicians comprising vocalist Tanya Sen, pianist Amery Reuben, bassist Leonard Ng and drummer Mohd Rafee, delighted the audience with their creative interpretations of a wide selection of jazz standards from around the world.

The audience appreciation was fantastic for the young musicians, as the concert was full of great musical variety and in multiple languages from Europe, America and Asia, and accompanied by beautiful photographs from artist Kylie Woon. Each number was narrated in the mellifluous voice of Bernadette Cho; while the Concert was introduced by Neera Gupta of Kit Kat Marketing.

Ahead of the concert, SNSAs Guests, and donors mingled with our SNSA members and volunteers and enjoyed the food served at the reception at Old School Delights. Many had a fun time taking photographs too. In the interval, our guests and members got a chance to meet Madam President Halimah, and she was able to appreciate the many valuable services that SNSA provides to our members as well as bringing awareness of stroke to the world at large.

All in all, it was an event that raised awareness within the wider community of stroke as well as on SNSA’s efforts in this area for 22 years. It was most heartening that SNSA was able to meet and even exceed our fundraising target from this event, which will enable us to further step up our activities in the community to alleviate the difficulties for stroke survivors and caregivers from this dreaded disease.
